

The weather is making money fast for the farmer, and when the farmers make money the industries of the country prosper.

While the Republicans of Pennsylvania are divided into two factions, and there is a discussion as to which tells the truth, the President or Mr. Platt, the Republican party of the Nation, stands squarely on its feet.

All the members of Congress from Kansas in the present House have been re-nominated without trouble. There will be four candidates at large under the new apportionment, and for these nominations there will be an energetic strife.

Deader than a door nail is the Greenback party of Wisconsin, and yet that party proposes to make an "active" campaign this year. They have engaged F. M. Fogg, of Maine, to visit every county and organize clubs and hold meetings. The long felt want of the leaders of the Greenback party is the want of funds, and they purpose to pretend activity in the campaign and call upon the deluded followers to furnish the funds. They want money and a little cheap notoriety and these are all they expect or hope to gain.

Little children seem to fare badly in the Homes in New York where they are sent for care, food, and attention. One little girl recently died in the Unsectarian Home for lack of proper care, and Mr. Ramsar, the superintendent, was indicted, and in default of $5,000 bail was committed to the Tombs. When he is tried, and if found guilty, he should not get out of penitentiary after serving one or two years like the Rev. Cowley. The law should bear down with righteous force, and his confinement at hard labor should be commensurate with the terrible crime he has committed.

The House of Representatives has unanimously passed a bill which is likely to prove another surprise to those who have taken an interest in the pension laws. The bill is entitled: "An act to amend the pension laws by increasing the pensions of soldiers and sailors who have lost an arm or leg in the service," but that is not what it really is. In the text is a significant clause which includes all those on the pension rolls, or who shall hereafter be granted a pension, "who shall have suffered disability equal thereto shall be entitled to a pension of $40 per month." This clause, in the opinion of a pension office official, will double the pension office anew with a very large amount from the public treasury. The bill was introduced by Bingham, of Pennsylvania, and was called up and passed at the instance of Governor Curtin on Thursday.

The Prohibition convention at Madison this week resolved its self into a temperance conference when the convention had finished its work, and Mr. Sutherland, of this city, was chosen chairman. During the proceedings, Mr. Sutherland offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, That while we as temperance workers believe in the principle of constitutional prohibition, against the sale of intoxicating beverages by the State, and will not relax our efforts for the accomplishment of that object yet as an auxiliary in its attainment, we will work for, and demand the enactment, by our legislature, of a law which shall prevent the sale or giving away of all intoxicating drinks, unless by bulk. And which shall prohibit the licensing of any saloon or public bar, and which shall declare all such places public nuisances, and provide for their summary abatement as any other public nuisance.

This was referred to a special committee, and a general discussion followed on various questions connected with the temperance movement. It was desired to hold a temperance encampment at Lakeside this summer, but it was finally decided to let it drop for this summer.

A little over two years ago Mr. A. Foote, of La Crosse, who was then a partner with "Brick" Pomeroy in publishing the Democrat at that place, was arrested on the charge of forgery, and we think also on the charge of arson; but however that may be, he was confined in the jail, had a trial, was convicted, and sentenced to Waupun for five years. There were a great many who had much sympathy for Mr. Foote, and thought the sentence was excessive. We are sorry to say that he had led somewhat of a quarrelsome life, had not been gentlemanly and honest in all things, and had a disposition which threw him into many disputes, angry conversations, and degrading quarrels. But these are all past. Foote is in the penitentiary, and has already been severely punished, and as a matter of course he wants to get out. It is terribly stinging for him to spend his years behind the bars, because he is a man of a sensitive nature, has been well educated, has an accomplished wife, is well connected, and is still a young man. While he may admit that he has erred and justly deserved punishment, he now thinks that justice has struck a sufficient blow, and that his sentence should be mitigated one half. An application will be made to Governor Rusk during this month for a mitigation of the sentence; and as no one can have an honest motive in still crushing a wounded spirit, there will be a strong effort made to secure executive clemency. The Gazette, for one, hopes that the Governor will consider favorably the application for a mitigation of the sentence. It is not a time to exercise malice toward a young man who has been unfortunate and who has been abundantly punished for his sins.

The entire western portion of the town was deluged, buildings destroyed, and cellars flooded. No persons killed.

THE TARIFF COMMISSION.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The President has sent the following nominations to the Senate, to be members to the tariff commission: Wm. A. Wheeler, of New York, chairman; John L. Hays, of Massachusetts; Henry W. Olive, Jr., of Pennsylvania; Austin M. Garland, of Illinois; Jacob Ambler, of Ohio; John S. Phelps, of Missouri; Robert P. Broter, of the District of Columbia; John W. H. Underwood, of Georgia; Duncan F. Kenner, of Louisiana.

William A. Wheeler, who is to be president of the commission, resides in Mahone, N. Y., and is a banker and capitalist. He was Vice President of the United States during the Hayes administration. He obtained some distinction as one of the visiting statesmen to New Orleans. Since the death of his wife he has practically retired from politics.

John L. Hays, of Massachusetts, has been associated for many years with the wool interests of the country, and is regarded as one of the best informed men in the United States on the growing of wool and the manufacture of woollen goods. He is also the author of several works on economical subjects.

Henry W. Olive, of Pennsylvania, is a large iron manufacturer of Pittsburgh. He is an active politician, and in January of last year was Mr. Cameron's candidate for the United States Senate. The entire delegation from his State urged his appointment on the tariff commission.

Austin M. Garland, of Illinois, represents the agricultural as well as the woolen interests on the commission. He was for years president of the National Wool Growers' association. Like all the other members of the commission, he is a believer in a protective tariff.

John Ambler is a native of Pittsburg, but removed to Ohio and served on the bench and in the Legislature of that State. He was also two years a representative in Congress from the Seventh Ohio district. His legal ability is said to be very great, and he was selected as a man capable of acting as legal adviser of the commission.

John S. Phelps is a native of Connecticut, but has long resided in Missouri. He was a prominent politician before the war, and was long a member of Congress, serving as chairman of the committee of ways and means. In 1876 he was elected governor of Missouri and has since been a prominent aspirant for a seat in the United States Senate.

John W. H. Underwood is an ex-congressman from Georgia, and is a man whose knowledge of all matters pertaining to all industrial matters is conceded to be very extensive.

Robert P. Porter, although an Illinois man, represents the District of Columbia. He is a well-known statesman who was connected with the census bureau, and was charged with the collection and registration of statistics on the wealth, debt and taxation in the United States.

Duncan F. Kenner, of Louisiana, is a sugar planter. He became well-known in connection with the electoral commission and the Potter committee.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

MADISON, June 8.—A number of representative women-suffragists from various portions of the State met here this afternoon and evening to map out the summer and fall campaign. They say they propose to pledge as many Legislative candidates as possible to vote for woman-suffrage at next winter's session, and will organize a strong lobby to stay by the next Legislature until they can secure the preliminary adoption of a joint resolution to amend the State Constitution making suffrage equal. The women say they are enlisted for the war this time.

KEENE'S REMARK.

NEW YORK, June 8.—"Foxhall is a good horse," said Mr. James R. Keene, as he stood looking at the gold and stock ticker in his private banking rooms in Broad street to-day. "He has won the Ascot cup, and it's just what I expected."

THE FIRE RECORD.

OSHKOSH, June 7.—Reports from Wausau are that forest fires are raging between that city and Ellan Junction, the smoke spreading over a great extent of country. Forests are very dry from long drought, and the inhabitants of that country are greatly alarmed.

PORTAGE, June 8.—A Spencer dispatch says that Thayer's sawmill burned last night, caused by the explosion of a lamp. The watchman, George Brooks, was badly burned. Loss, $10,000; insurance, $2,500.

MANISTE, Mich., June 8.—The fourth ward school-house, valued at $70,000, burned this morning.

Bradford, Pa. Thomas Fitchell, Bradford, Pa., writes: "I enclose money for SPRING Blossom, as I said I would if it cured me. My dyspepsia has vanished, with all its symptoms. Many thanks. I shall never be without it in the house. Price 50 cents, trial bottles 10 cents."

THE BANK ROBBERS.

St. Louis, June 9.—3 a. m.—The Republican's Brookfield special says: The pursuit of the bank robbers has been continued vigorously to-day, and the latest accounts are that the gang are surrounded at a point a few miles northwest of Macon by 500 men from Linn, Sullivan, Macon, and Adair counties, and that, while they have kept their pursuers at bay so far by their heavier arms, their capture is considered certain. Two of the pursuing party have been slightly wounded, and one of the robbers is known to be badly hurt. The robbers are now known to be men mentioned last night as having been stopping on the Harper farm near Kirksville, for some days prior to the robbery. A train with armed men is soon to leave for the place where the robbers are surrounded, and it is believed that the latter have no possible chance for escape. If they attempt to break through the line they will be shot down without mercy. The whole country is up in arms, and men have left their fields, stores, and workshops in all the half-dozen counties to hunt the desperadoes down. The exact amount lost by the bank is $4,729. Five hundred dollars reward are offered for the capture of the robbers.

A FEUD FINISHED.

LARAMIE, W. T., June 8.—At Rawlins, last night, William McCabe shot Edward Callison, who had threatened his life. McCabe is the government interpreter in charge of the bands of Shoshone Indians, here for supplies. The excitement was intense all night, and lynching, and possibly trouble from the Indians, is feared. The act was the result of an old feud. The ball lodged in Callison's brain, and his recovery is impossible. The law will probably justify the act on the ground of self-defense.

GARIBALDI.

ROME, June 8.—The girls of the Municipal Palace made a funeral wreath which Prince Leopold, of Torsionia will present at Caprera. In gold letters on the ribbon attached to the wreath are the words: "To the immortal Garibaldi, June 2, 1882."

Garibaldi died with the window of his apartment wide open, and while the sun was setting. Before his last agony a bird alighted on the window-sill, where it remained twittering. Garibaldi saw it and stammered: "Quante allegrie (how joyful it is)."

It is rumored that sooner or later the body of Garibaldi will be brought to Rome. There will be a procession in honor of the deceased, Sunday. It is said again the body will be buried on the summit of the Janiculum Hill, where the remains of many Italian patriots, shot by the Austrians, are buried.

The next annual session will be held in Milwaukee.
